

U.S. PERFORMANCE DESTINATIONS:

Cincinnati

Cincinnati performance trips offer a rewarding experience for your choir, band or orchestra. Attend educational masterclasses and workshops, learn about choral studies at the University of Cincinnati, create and perform a classical music track or march in a parade, opportunities exist around every corner. Nothing compares to a coaching session at the Cincinnati Symphony Orchestra, making this performance trip rewarding and memorable. The Queen City has it all – great activities, a sparkling river and a welcoming spirit! Since the 1920's, Cincinnati has had a vibrant jazz scene and was a major early music recording center for names like James Brown and Louis Armstrong. Cincinnati is also home to the May Festival Chorus, the mainstay of the oldest continuous choral festival in the Western Hemisphere. Cincinnati Music Hall was built to house the May Festival. There are plenty of opportunities for performances in and around this historic city. After a great performance, your group can enjoy a trip to the largest amusement and water park in the Midwest.
